CAPT. EISLER DOUBTS CHOP ON THOMSON'S CERTIFICATE

Shipping Board Man Testifies Regarding Alleged License Forgery

WRITING IS ISSUE

Defense Counsel Wins In Plea Against Expert's Testimony

Testimony for the prosecution was tendered yesterday afternoon in the British Police Court in the charge brought against John Thomson, described as a master mariner with forging a document purporting to be a licence issued by the United States Department of Commerce and uttering same as genuine.

Mr. S. H. McKean with Mr. L. G. Husar appeared for the prosecution and Mr. R. G. MacDonald for the defence.

Captain W. I. Eisler, of the United States Shipping Board, testified that he had known defendant since 1917. He had received a number of letters when he was marine superintendent of the Standard Oil Company from the defendant. Shown a number of letters Captain Eisler said they were the defendant's.

On the question of handwriting the prosecution asked permission to call Mr. Thomas E. Hammond, employed in the tael department of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank.

Mr. Hammond said he had been in the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank for the last three years, his chief duty being to see every check drawn and every check paid. He saw all endorsements and all drawer's signatures, so much so that he was very familiar with a good many signatures in Shanghai.

Mr. MacDonald submitted that would not entitle Mr. Hammond to give expert evidence on handwriting. They were not the qualifications and the evidence would not be put forward in a court of law. Mr. McKean replied that the only time he recollected that a matter of this kind had cropped up in a criminal case in the British Police Court was a case in which the handwriting of Mr. Craig, and in which the then officer in charge of a similar department in the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank was called for the purpose of proving the handwriting in a telegram.

ATTORNEY OBJECTS

Magistrate King said he remembered that case as he took up the committal. He inquired to Mr. MacDonald whether he expected that a man who came to give evidence on handwriting should have higher qualifications than Mr. Hammond, who in the course of his duties exercised very great care to see that checks are drawn by proper persons. Mr. MacDonald said that Mr. Hammond was familiar with the signatures of the customers of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank, and his duty was to compare the signatures on the checks with the signatures in the book.

The Magistrate: Does not that require skill. Mr. Hammond has proved it that in the course of the duty he has become quite skilled in comparing signatures. It seems to me to be rather fair to put two documents and ask him whether he recognised the signatures. The point with Mr. Hammond is that he knows the signatures on checks.

Mr. Hammond: I have not come here to decide on this particular signature. I had not stated that I was an expert in handwriting.

The Magistrate: There is no reflection on your skill and ability.

Mr. McKean: I propose to ask Mr. Hammond whether the handwriting in that licence is the same as the handwriting in these letters.

Objection was taken by Mr. MacDonald against this question and Magistrate King supported Mr. MacDonald's objection.

The Magistrate: Mr. Hammond the question here is that your work consists of comparing certain signatures you have with those checks that clients sign and to see that they are signing the way you know. It seems to be the test.

Mr. Hammond said that he was competent, he thought, to test the signatures of the defendant.

Magistrate King eventually gave his decision that Mr. Hammond's evidence could not be taken on the question of signatures and handwriting. There was, he said, no

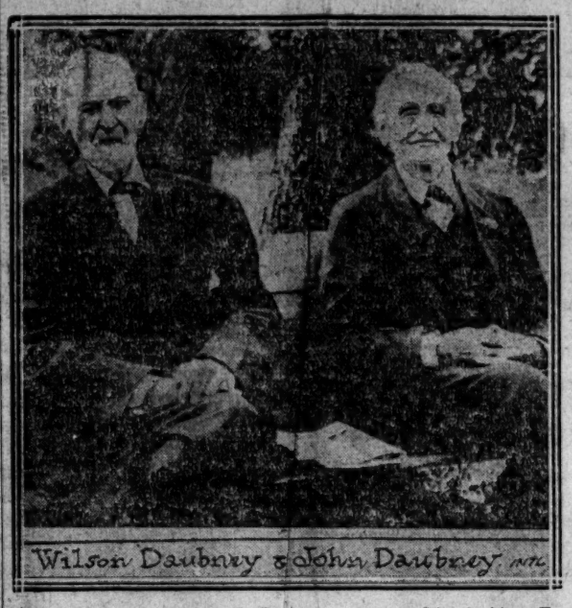
Iowa Centenarians Are Feted



ALL the townspeople of Decorah, Iowa, turned out to fete Wilson Daubney and his brother, John, when Wilson reached the age of 100. John is a little this side of 103. They were born in Lincolnshire, England, but came to America with their parents in 1824. John came from his home in Minnesota to attend the celebration for Wilson.

WU PEI-FU IS RETURNING TO LOYANG SOON

Third Division Moved Back To Training Camp; Split Seen

Peking, June 29.—The entire third division under command of General Wu Pei-fu has been sent back to Loyang, following General Wu's circular telegram that he would no longer interfere with politics. He is expected to go back to his war camp himself within this week.

Meanwhile rumors are afloat that there is a serious break between Tsao Kun and Wu over the Cabinet questions as well as the Civil Governorship of Chihli. Kao En-hung and Tung Kung, the two nominees of Wu, are virtually dictating the policy of the Yen Cabinet. Many complaints have been filed with Tsao and the blame is invariably laid at the door of Wu Pei-fu, who really knew nothing of the conditions in Peking. The appointment of Wang Chen-ping, the Wu Pei-fu nominee, as Civil Governor of Chihli to succeed Tsao Jui, Tsao Kun's brother, further complicates matters and Tsao is said to have expressed disapproval of Wu's high-handed policy.

Over in Nanking, Chi Shih-yuan, the Tuchun, is also displeased for several reasons. Chief among these are the failure of the Chihli victor to dismiss Ho Feng-lin of Shanghai, the appointment of Feng Yu-hsiang as Commander-in-Chief of Kiangsu, Anhui and Honan which will make him play "second fiddle" in his province and the removal of two Customs Superintendents without first consulting him.

The peace settlement with Chang Tso-lin has caused uneasiness in the Wu Pei-fu camp. The terms were not acceptable to Wu, but Tsao Kun and the Peking administration have agreed to the conditions and two divisions of the Chihli army have been withdrawn to Fengtai and Paotingfu.

TELEGRAMS SHOW SUN OFFERED TUAN PEKING COMMAND

Appointment Given Ex-Premier Following Abdication Of Hsu Shih-chang

Canton, June 24.—Telegrams showing that Tuan Chi-jui, former Premier, was offered by Dr. Sun Yat-sen the command of all Northern forces following the retirement of Hsu Shih-chang, have been disclosed. It appears that on June 2 when Hsu abdicated, Dr. Sun desired to give this important appointment to Marshal Tuan in the name of the Southern Republic.

An informal offer was made through Little Hsu, Tuan's lieutenant, by two of Sun's trusted friends, whose names for obvious reasons cannot be disclosed. Little Hsu, however, turned the offer down without consulting Tuan, because he felt that Tuan would not consent to accept. The telegram addressed to Little Hsu reads:

"Hsu Shih-chang has fled Peking. There is absolutely no ground upon which Li Yuan-hung may be restored to the Presidential chair. The tottering administration in North China should at once be readjusted and it is the suggestion of President Sun that General Tuan Chi-jui be given command of all the Northern forces with headquarters at Peking. You (Little Hsu) are requested to convey this message to General Tuan and sound him on this matter. Please wire your reply at your earliest convenience."

The telegram was dated June 5. Little Hsu on June 8 sent the following reply:

"I have read your telegram under date of June 5. After the departure of Hsu Shih-chang, the nation has truly become one without a government. Chaos will reign throughout the country and the immediate settlement of the political situation in the North is indeed imperative.

"Although Marshal Tuan has been devoting his time to the study of Buddhism, his loyalty to the country has not at all been lessened. However, the offer made to him is quite an innovation, and I dare not undertake to convey this on your behalf. Because it is my humble opinion that before the settlement of the general political condition, we should continue to carry out my principle of national salvation through non-aggression and pacificism as we had agreed.

"We shall refrain from struggling for office or fame in order to be consistent with our agreement. Dr. Sun has a noble and clean character and is a man whom I have admired for a long time. So I have ventured to speak in a straightforward manner. I trust that you will not consider myself ungraceful for having answered you in the negative."

Tsao Raps Kao For Failure To Meet Education Funds

Failure by Mr. Kao En-hung, Acting Minister of Education, to meet the expenses for the schools was the subject of a lengthy telegram circulated on Wednesday by General Tsao Kun. He pointed out that the cause of slow educational development in China was due to the lack of permanent funds for the support of the schools.

The Ministry of Education, he said, had always been living from hand to mouth. The situation has been from bad to worse recently when the money alloted to educational institutions is not forthcoming. General Tsao stated that education should occupy the premier place in national development and it is imperative that the lion's share of the national revenue should be devoted to this cause.

Peking, June 29.—It is reported that Mr. Wang Yung-chiang has telegraphed to the Government declining the position of Civil Governor of Fengtien on the ground that he is unable to act at present.

American Chamber Reviews Work Of Year; Is Assured Trade Measure Will Pass

Telegram From Congressman Dyer States That Opposition Will Have To Yield Despite Tariff Debate; Directors Are Chosen

All the varied and diverse activities of the American business community in China were reviewed last night at the meeting of the American Chamber of Commerce held at the American Club when almost 100 members attended the session and the dinner that preceed it. The outstanding feature of the evening was the reading of a telegram from Senator Dyer stating that the China Trade Act would be brought before the Senate and passed despite the powerful opposition of certain Senators.

The retiring president, Mr. V. G. Lyman, made a sweeping survey of the Chamber's activities, after which the report of Treasurer J. S. Dollar showing the finances to be in excellent condition was read, and reports were made by Mr. Paul Page Whitham as chairman of a special committee on the Whangpoo Conservancy and Honorary Secretary J. B. Powell on his work as the special representative of the Chamber in Washington.

The election of directors resulted in the choice of Messrs. W. A. Burns J. S. Dolan, J. Harold Dollar, Capt. W. I. Eisler, B. C. Hafle, Georg A. Heybrun, V. G. Lyman, J. J. Ogers, and P. P. Whitham to form the board for the coming year. They will meet today or tomorrow to elect officers.

MR. LYMAN'S ADDRESS

The President's address covering the annual report was as follows:

"In presenting a report covering the past year it is not considered necessary to dwell at length on the unsatisfactory business conditions which, in general, have prevailed throughout the period under review. The situation has been so evident to all that any amplification in this report appears to be unnecessary.

"In connection with the volume of foreign trade, however, it may be well to explain what, apparently is an anomaly. The Customs' report for the year 1921 shows an increase in collection of duties over the preceding year of more than four and a half million taels and this, ordinarily, would be taken as reflecting satisfactory conditions. It should be considered however that the average value of silver, in relation to gold, decreased by more than 40 percent in 1921, below that of 1920, it will be seen that in volume imports which are necessarily purchased in gold, fell off enormously, so that the import trade for 1921 has been correctly described as much the worst in recent years. Notwithstanding this unsatisfactory condition it is most encouraging to note that on the whole our merchants are successfully working their way through the long period of depression, and it is now felt that the worst has been passed and that the possibilities for a slow but sure return to normal conditions may now be confidently anticipated.

"One very powerful brake on the wheels of business has been the torn and distracted political condition that has prevailed throughout such a large portion of the country. It is to be sincerely hoped that the recent culmination of conflicting aspirations at Peking will have tended to clear the political atmosphere and that a return to peaceful conditions so necessary to the welfare of the country is presaged by the events which are now transpiring.

HARBOR PROJECT

"Probably the most important event that took place during the year, so far as the future prosperity of Shanghai is concerned, was the international convention of engineering experts who met here to study and report upon the future needs of the port and the methods necessary to safeguard the same by increasing the local harbor space and deepening the river approaches thereto.

"Encouraged by the consular representatives of the principal powers the various national Chambers of Commerce as well as the Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce are giving the subject that attention which its importance deserves and it is to be hoped that the various interests may find it possible to combine on a uniform plan for carrying the essentials, at least, of the Engineers' recommendations into fulfilment. A special report on this subject will be submitted by the Committee having it in charge.

"Needless to say the progress of the Washington Conference was watched with the deepest interest by all our citizens. Actual and beneficial results have followed as a consequence thereof, and it is felt that as time passes, the work done and results obtained will more and more be appreciated by and helpful to all dwellers in the Far East.

THE TRADE ACT

"If there has been one question more than another which has had

LAY PLANS FOR BIG 'FOURTH' CELEBRATION

Children Urged To Attend Rehearsals Of Drills Today

A celebration in which all Americans—men, women and children—can and should join, is that planned by the committee which has in charge arrangements for the observance of the Fourth of July by the American community in Shanghai. So varied is the program to be given at the Race Course, and so extensive in its scope that it is felt that every American will want to attend.

Arrangements for the flag drill and tableaux in which children of the American community will take part are proceeding at a rapid pace. All children who are to take part in either the drill or the tableaux are asked to be at the Race Course, under the big clock at 4 p.m. today for rehearsal. Miss Austin and Miss Kitchin, who have charge of drilling the children, will be on hand. Parents are urged to see to it that children are prompt, as this rehearsal will be of vital importance. The tableaux which the children are to stage will represent important developments in American history. Children of the American community over five years of age may take part.

Announcement was made yesterday by the committee that arrangements have been made to have the full Municipal band play at the Race Course between 5 and 7 p.m. on the afternoon of the Fourth. There will be displays on daylight fireworks throughout the afternoon, and while the tableaux are going on one platform two of the best Chinese jugglers in Shanghai will perform on another platform. Following the flag drill there will be a picnic supper at six, to the accompaniment of the band concert and fireworks. Later motion pictures will be shown in the grandstand.

All American families are urged to attend and bring basket suppers. Heads of households are urged to provide sufficient food to care for the bachelor members of the community.

California Jazz Band Pleases Big Astor House Throng

The California jazz band and glee club injected a whole flock of jazzes and numerous gobs of glee into the festivities department of the Astor House last evening, the occasion being in the nature of a semi-farewell, "semi" because the Californians will sing and play their real good byes at the Astor House summer pavilion tonight.

The big doings last night were held in the ball room, due to the fact that J. Pluvius, the town rowdy, was holding a spite party of his own outdoors. Nobody attended Jupe's carousal except a lot of dew drops and they ran away as fast as they arrived, whereas everybody in Shanghai, except the deaf and rheumatic, turned out to listen to the Californians and dance to the tunes of their fiddlers.

It was a big affair, and a good time was had by all except the ushers, who had to hustle to find room for all who wanted in. Encouraged by the overflow audience, the collegians turned loose everything they had, which was plenty. The jazz band jazzed, the glee club gleed, soloists soloed, "Hal" Gervin, in eccentric songs and dances, and "Chick" Cole and George Taylor, in character songs and dances making tremendous hits.

The college boys will appear at the Astor again tonight, and will do their stuff outdoors if the weather man will behave himself long enough. But out doors or in, the boys will be there and if you don't want to miss something more better you catchee missy and have look see.

DRASTIC FINANCE REFORM PROPOSED BY MINISTER TUNG

Wellington Koo Indisposed; Will Assume Office In A Week

Peking, June 29.—Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo is slightly indisposed and has been ordered by his physicians to take a rest. He will not assume his new appointment as chairman of the Financial Commission until one week after. In response to inquiries, Dr. Koo stated that he would not seek to borrow any foreign loans. His commission will limit its function to the deliberation of problems.

It is understood that Tung Kung, Minister of Finance, will introduce three important resolutions at the coming session of the commission. They are:

1.—The abolition of the Likin system. At present the entire proceeds have been seized by the military authorities in the various provinces and none is handed over to Peking. The abolition would enable China to increase the customs revenue, which would directly benefit the national treasury.

2.—The issuance of revenue stamps for all forms of revenues so that the stamps can be sold by the post offices and the huge staff kept for the handling of revenue can be dismissed. Tung points to the tobacco and wine revenue as an example. The amount assessed totals $200,000,000 yearly, yet only $40,000,000 reach the treasury.

3.—The switching of national debts with Great Britain and the United States. Tung figures that the amount owing by China to Great Britain is but one-twentieth of the amount owing by Great Britain to the United States. If Great Britain could write off the China debts in favor of the United States, China could save yearly $10,000,000 on interest alone.

Forty Robbers To Be Shot Because Hot Spell Nears

Between thirty and forty armed robbers, convicted and under death sentence now at the Arsenal, will be shot in the near future as a precaution against epidemics of disease among the prisoners during the impending warm weather, according to announcements in the Chinese press.

The announcement is in accordance with a statement given out by General Ho Feng-lin, Defense Commissioner, some time ago, in which he declared that he would use all possible haste in trying the large number of prisoners who are held for capital crimes, because he feared that disease would break out in the over-crowded jail.

SITUATION IN ERIN CALLED WORSE SINCE EASTER, 1916

Fierce Fighting Continues Around Four Courts

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 29.—The situation in Dublin is comparable to the rebellion of Eastern, 1916. Messages from Dublin after midnight stated that the fighting was continuing. The Free State troops have completely surrounded the Four Courts. The irregulars have been driven out of Fowler Hall, but have taken up fresh positions.

A proclamation issued from the Four Courts yesterday evening says: "The Republic is fighting for its life. Citizens, defend the Republic. The enemy is the old enemy of England, using new weapons lent to her to their shame by traitors to the Republic in our midst. Churchill has cracked his whip and ordered the provisional Government to attack the Four Courts. His Free State agents have obeyed. Shame on them. The Republicans will defend the Republic to the death."

It is stated that the "Industrial Workers of the World," or Communists, who have the Hall Behind Fowler Hall, are co-operating with the irregulars and have fortified their Hall.

It is reported that Republican outbreaks have occurred at various places in South Ireland.

Evidently the Provisional. Government is about to take drastic measures to end the raids of irregulars on the Derby-Donegal border. There is a large concentration of Free State troops at Buncrana. Major-General McKeown has arrived at Drumboe Castle, headquarters of the Regular troops in that district.

London, June 28.—Machinegun and artillery fire was still in progress in Dublin at 6.30 this evening.

The Provisional Government has imposed a censorship on telegraphic messages.

London, June 28, (Later).—The Dublin battle continued throughout the day. The telephones have closed down but it has been ascertained that seven persons have been killed and 20 wounded. The regulars sustained six casualties in the course of two ambushes. Sniping is extending throughout the city and a number of civilians have been killed by stray bullets.

A message from O'Connor at the Four Courts, issued by the Republican Publicity Department this afternoon, says: "The boys are glorious and will fight for the Republic to the end. Three casualties so far, all slight."

Dublin, June 29.—Mr. de Valera has issued a statement in which he declares that England's threat of war is alone responsible for the present situation here. The men who are now attacked by the Provisional Government's forces prefer to die rather than yield to the threat. They are the best and bravest of the Irish nation and would loyally

HARDING ACTS TO END COAL STRIKE, CALLS CONFERENCE

President Invites Men And Operators To Meeting

MEET TOMORROW

Aims At Settlement Of Trouble In All Fields

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, June 29.—President Harding has intervened in the coal strike and has arranged a Conference on Saturday between about 30 mine-owners, representing all United States coal and the President and Vice-President and 24 district presidents of the Mineworkers' Union. Conference will aim at the settlement of both the bituminous and anthracite coalminers' strikes.

Sheriff Blamed For Massacre Of Coal Miners

(China Press Service)

Springfield, Ills., June 29.—Major General Milton J. Foreman, commander of the Illinois National Guard, has telephoned Adjutant General Black that loss of nerve on the part of Sheriff Thaxton of Williamson County was one of the responsible causes for the massacre of non union mine workers at Herrin. The other cause was the killing of two miners by guards last Wednesday. No troops were needed, he declared.

Governor Small thereupon ordered the demobilisation of national guards who had been in readiness since Friday in case of need in the mining area.

C. R. Edington, former captain in the Intelligence service overseas, made an independent investigation and announced that W. J. Webster, chief owner of the mine where the massacre occurred, was legally and morally responsible for the deaths owing to his act in sending gunmen to disrupt peace in the community and threaten private citizens.

The adjutant general has ordered a military court of inquiry to Herrin to investigate the situation as the Southern Illinois Mine Company has called for help asserting that the sheriff has refused to do his duty and furnish them with full protection.

Banque Proposal Ok'd By Cabinet

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, June 29.—It is officially stated that the Cabinet Council have approved M. Porte's scheme for the establishment of the Banque Industrielle de Chine.

The capital of the company of management, which is the basis of the scheme, is already guaranteed by a powerful banking group, at the head of which is the Banque de Paris et des Pays Bas.

As it is advisable that this vexed question should be settled without further delay, a bill will probably be tabled before the summer recess.

Three Accused Of Rathenau Murder

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, June 29.—It is officially stated that the murderers of Dr. Rathenau are named Techow of Berlin, Fischer, a Saxon, and Knauer of Mecklenburg. They are all members of the Monarchist organisation called "Consul" and formerly belonged to the notorious Ehrhardt Brigade. Several arrests have been made on a charge of complicity.

Tokio Shipyard To Close Factory

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, June 24.—The Ishikawajima Shipbuilding Company announced the closing of one of its factories last night, and the discharge of some 20 more workmen. A spirit of unrest once again prevails among the employees there, who will confer this evening to discuss their future policy.

SEPARATE CERTIFICATES

Captain Eisler, continuing, said that he held a master certificate for some 23 years. He was quite familiar with the certificates of masters and officers issued by the Department of Commerce of the United States. These certificates were renewed every five years. The licence is turned in and a new one issued every five years. The last certificate issued to him was in 1919. It bore No. 1-1, which indicated that it was the first issue of the master's sail's certificate. On that certificate could not be included a certificate to become a master of a steam vessel. A separate one was issued for steam and sail. Prior to the law which provided for the issuance of sail certificates, if an officer had the qualification to act as officer of steam this would be endorsed upon his sail certificate. On witness' steam certificate there was an endorsement which stated that he was qualified to act as pilot in certain waters.

Is there any rule in the Department of Commerce whereby certificates were issued to masters of sailing vessels were also given to include steam vessels?—The steam certificates were of earlier origin. Before the issuance of a sailing certificate there would be an endorsement on it of sail.

There were no certificates for sail till seven or eight years ago?—When I went home in 1919 in connection with my naval duties my previous steam certificate with an endorsement for sail was renewed with two certificates. Now there are two separate certificates issued for steam and sail.

SIGNATURES FALSE

Asked what his duties in Shanghai were, Captain Eisler said he was official surveyor for the American Government. When a vessel required a certificate for any reason there was a certain form which he had to fill out on which information was sought. It was his duty to inspect the certificates of every master and officer on board the vessels he inspected. He was acquainted with the signatures of the Inspector of Hulls and the Inspector of Boilers.

Are you acquainted with the signature of Mr. Charlton, the Inspector of Hulls, and the signature of Mr. Chrome, the Inspector of Boilers, as given in this particular licence?—I have seen their signatures quite frequently. This is certainly not the signature of Mr. Charlton. It is also not Mr. Chrome's signature.

Mr. MacDonald objected to the question of the defendant's handwriting being put to the witness.

Magistrate: Captain Eisler says he has received many letters from the accused.

Mr. MacDonald: He can speak about the signature but with regard to hand-writing I submit he cannot speak.

Magistrate: I shall allow that question.

Mr. Husar: I ask you to state whether in your opinion that was Thomson's signature?—It appears to me that the certificate is in the hand-writing of Thomson. I am familiar with Thomson's hand-writing.

Cross-examined by Mr. MacDonald: How long have you been studying hand-writing?—I studied Thomson's hand-writing during the last five or six months, when this question came up.

How many hours did you spend a day in studying his signature?—I do not think I spent any particular time.

RED-TICKET MEN

Could it have been one hour every week?—More than one hour. I had received more than half a dozen letters from Thomson for employment. I destroyed them in 1918.

During the past five or six months the only thing you saw was Thomson's signature on the certificate?—Since Thomson has been in my office half-a-dozen times pleading with me to get him out of this trouble, and he brought with him a lot of correspondence. I studied the handwriting in those letters with a view to seeing whether that certificate was in his own handwriting.

Have you ever seen Mr. Charlton and Mr. Chrome sign their signatures?—No. All that I saw was a number of certificates with Chrome's and Charlton's signatures.

When were sailing certificates first issued?—I think this particular form was first adopted within the last five, six, seven or eight years. The license on which the charge is based is a recognised sail form. The paper in my opinion is a genuine document.

Are you familiar with what goes on in the United States Shipping Board in New York?—These certificates are issued by the Department of Commerce by a special section called Steam Boat Inspection Service.

In 1920 there was a very serious shortage of skilled men?—There was a shortage during the War. I have been closely associated with the appointment of officers for the American Marine and know from correspondence which I can produce that as early as in 1920 many men were asking for employment here. There were the so-called red-ticket men. There were so many men that they had to withdraw these red-tickets. There was a shortage up till the end of 1919, and the shortage was for two years.

CORRUPTION CHARGE

Have the United States Shipping Board anything to do with the Steam Boat Inspection Service and the issuance of these licenses?—Indirectly, the Steam Boat Inspection Service is connected with the administration of the United States Shipping Board.

Do you know whether at the end of 1919 some of the officials connected with the United States Shipping Board were not entirely above suspicion and that there have been complaints with regard to the issue of these licenses?—It has not come to my knowledge that any officials of the United States Shipping Board were under suspicion. As an official of the United States Shipping Board I object to this question. I object to this aspersion on the United States Shipping Board. I am an official of the United States Shipping Board and I do not care in what court I am.

Mr. MacDonald said he put that question as a result of what Mr. Husar had said the previous day.

Mr. Husar said that what he meant to say yesterday was that there may be some clerks who may be connected with the issuance of the form. He emphatically denied implicating United States Shipping Board officials and said he had made no accusation against them.

Mr. MacDonald: I understood my friend to mean that yesterday, but now I withdraw it.

The Magistrate said he did not think that Mr. Macdonald should have placed that interpretation on what Mr. Husar said.

Cross-examined by Mr. Husar, Captain Eisler said the form which formed the subject matter of the charge was similar in the watermark and body and in every respect with the genuine one.

Magistrate: Is there anything to show where the certificates are issued?—The body of the certificates would show it.

"Peace Society" Will Be Probed By General Ho

An investigation into the "Peace Preservation Association of Shanghai" has been ordered by General Ho Feng-lin, Defense Commissioner, following reports that its members had made use of his name without his authority.

General Ho recently received a letter from the organisation saying they were prepared to send 500 soldiers in Shanghai back to their native homes if they were disbanded and give each of them $50 for passage money. They suggested that local yamens raise a sum of $10,000 for a like purpose.

The association explained that they were to hold a fete at the Ningpo Association to raise funds and asserted that General Ho Wong Keng-ting, Taoyin of Shanghai; Commissioner for Foreign Affairs Hsu Yuen, Magistrate Zung, Mr. C. C. Nieh and other prominent Chinese were backers of the project. General Ho immediately ordered an investigation into the affairs of the organisation.

Situation In Erin Worst Since 1916

have ousted the will of the Irish people freely expressed, but are claiming that Ireland's independence should be abandoned under the fiat of an alien Government.

London, June 28.—A report from Dublin states that the Free State forces occasionally shell 18-pounders, using high explosive in preference to common shell, in order to prevent fire, but they are making several breaches in the walls of the Four Courts. The outbreak of fire at Fowler Hall was extinguished by firemen. In the course of the afternoon there was considerable bombing in the rear of the Four Courts where a diversion by sympathisers with the Republicans was feared. Elaborate precautions have been taken to prevent reinforcements reaching O'Connor. All arrivals in Dublin are being searched and arms confiscated. Regular I.R.As have been summoned from the country to reinforce the troops in Dublin. Three I.R.As from a Mullingar contingent have been arrested for refusing to fight.

London, June 28.—At noon the battle of the Four Courts was continuing with undiminished vigor. The irregulars had retreated to the rear of the Four Courts and were hiding in the cellars. The Fowler Hall caught fire at two o'clock this afternoon and the attackers restrained their fire in order to save the Four Courts building from destruction.

The casualties amongst the attackers were few. The city is generally undisturbed and business is proceeding outside the battle-zone.

The crowds watching the fighting suffered for their curiosity, there being at least three casualties amongst civilians, including a woman killed.

The attack was first launched on the Fowler Memorial Hall, Commandant O'Connor's subsidiary headquarters, and the Garrison's Hall of the Four Courts was then vigorously attacked. A thousand regular I.R.As are engaged.

They used trench-mortars with which they destroyed the copper dome of the Four Courts. Rifle and machinegun fire lasted for from 3 to 4 hours.

A cordon has been formed in the vicinity of the battle but the inhabitants are crowded at the street-corners out of range.

The ambulances are very active and there have been many casualties.

The fighting at the Four Courts was preceded by investment operations under the direction of General Ennis, commanding the Eastern Division, at 3.30 this morning. The irregular I. R. A's received a demand for their surrender within half an hour but gave no reply. An armored car then passed in front of the building and the garrison fired on it, whereupon an 18-pounder, mounted on another armored car, shelled the Four Courts. A hot exchange of rifle firing developed accompanied by shelling from two 18-pounders. The machine-gun fire on both sides was very heavy.

London, June 28.—A statement, issued by the Provisional Government this afternoon, describes the events preceding the "action now being taken to protect and secure the people of Ireland against further molestation and interference with their liberties."

It says that two Dublin firms on June 24 received demands in the name of the leader of the Irregulars, illegally occupying the Law Courts, to pay certain sums by June 27 under pretext of the unauthorised Belfast boycott.

The Government arranged to arrest any one attempting extortion and gave orders for troops to protect them. A firm was raided and 48 hours later the leader of the raiders was arrested and jailed.

"This warning to the lawless and irresponsible that the Government with an emphatic mandate from the people would no longer tolerate interference with their liberty and property was not merely unheeded but insolently defied." The Provisional Government then describes the seizure and confining as a prisoner in the Four Courts of General O'Connell and adds: "Against this direct challenge of its authority the Government ordered the Army into action. Troops this morning surrounded the Law Courts and demanded the evacuation of the building and the surrender of the munitions and property held therein. A time limit was given but the demand was ignored. At the same time the Fowler Hall, which was the center of direction for the seizure of private property, was invested. The statements that British troops are co-operating with the I. R. A. are false and malicious. Only Irish forces with the co-operation of the citizens who are loyally and enthusiastically supporting the Government are engaged in putting down disorderly elements who attempt to tyrannise the people and defy their will."

London, June 28.—In the House of Commons today in reply to questions, Mr. Winston Churchill said that the decision of the Provisional Government to attack the Four Courts in no way arose out of the debate in the House of Commons nor was it a consequence of the Government's declaration on June 26.

The Provisional Government was solely responsible for the operations and had declined assistance from the Imperial force and in equipment.

Forty Are Fined For Disturbance In Strike Clash

Forty Chinese were fined $3 each yesterday by American Assessor King and Magistrate Loh in the Mixed Court, as a result of a miniature riot which developed following an assault committed Monday by a number of carpenters who are on strike in Chapei on a master carpenter.

Three of the ringleaders in the assault were arrested by the police, but the crowd which gathered rapidly, mostly out of curiosity, followed the police and their captives to the West Hongkew Station. When they created a disturbance in the vicinity of the station, the police rounded up forty of the men. The three responsible for the assault were finded $10 or ten days in jail.

JAPANESE ARMY PERSONNEL TO BE REDUCED 56,000

All Branches To Be Reduced—Equipment Will Be Increased

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, June 22.—The proposed plan of army organisation, as foreshadowed by the Nichi Nichi and other leading journals, involves a reduction of the personnel of the army by 56,000 men allocated as follows: 33,000 Infantry, 3,000 Cavalry, 16,000 Artillery, and 4,000 Engineers. There will also, it is said, be a considerable reduction in the number of horses, their places being taken by an expanded aeroplane and automobile service.

The foregoing curtailments will, it is thought, reduce the military expenditure by 20,200,000 yen which, added to retrenchment of 2,800,000 yen possible through administrative reforms, will bring the gross total of savings to Y.23,000,000.

The plan further provides for the reorganisation of the Army giving an infantry battalion three companies instead of four with six light machine-guns to each company instead of four, and eight heavy machine-guns instead of six. An artillery regiment will be composed of four batteries instead of six. Two squadrons instead of three will constitute a Cavalry regiment while a commissariat battalion will be composed of one or two companies instead of four. Two companies of Engineers instead of three will be attached to each Division, while the railway and telegraph regiments will be expanded.

For the introduction of new arms of various kinds a sum of ninety eight million yen will be required. This will be spread over a period of thirteen years, giving a rate of 7,540,000 yen per annum.

With regard to the period of service, the Diet asked for a reduction of the term to one year and four months. The authorities, however, hold that existing circumstances do not warrant so drastic a cut and will probably recommend a shortening by forty or fifty days.

Andrew Carnegie—

"The failure of the man who does not save his money is due not only to the fact that he has no money with which to take advantage of the opportunities that come in the way of every man, but also and particularly to the fact that such a man is not able or fit to avail himself of these opportunities. The man who cannot and does not save money, cannot and will not do anything else worth while."

the continued interest of the Chamber it has been the China Trade Act. For some years the Chamber has been in constant touch with this matter, and with those in the homeland who have been endeavoring to have a satisfactory law passed through Congress.

"For more than a year Mr. Powell, our corresponding secretary, gave practically his whole time, mostly spent in Washington, for the furtherance of the Act. Our Vice-President, Mr. J. Harold Dollar, also Mr. Carl Seitz have given much of their time and energy to the passing of this bill. We are under much obligation to all these gentlemen but especially should be mentioned Congressman Dyer of Missouri who most unselfishly has espoused our cause and from the beginning has lent his strength and influence in favor of this bill. Our last word is that the bill has passed the House of Representatives and we are daily awaiting word that it has also passed the Senate, whereupon the law will be assured since the President has long since expressed his hearty interest. A special report on this subject will be submitted by Mr. Powell.

POLICY OF CO-OPERATION

"The policy of this Chamber is as broad as its name would signify and in all its endeavors it has in view not only the immediate needs of its constituency in Shanghai but of American interests generally throughout the country. We are therefore more than pleased to work in closest harmony with American Chambers of Commerce operating at other centers in China, and will at all times be ready to extend to these organisations such aid and assistance as may be within our province to render.

"It is our purpose that membership in this Chamber shall mean something worthwhile. We want it to be an understood and clearly established fact that our membership consists of institutions and individuals in whom all who may come into contact may be able to place full reliance and in whom they may have complete confidence. In other words we wish it to be generally recognised, and especially so among our Chinese friends, that the fact of membership in this Chamber is an assurance to all that they may expect and will receive a square deal. It is therefore essential that we keep this Chamber and its membership up to this high ideal.

"It is appropriate on our part that we should give expression to the appreciation which we feel toward the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce for the courtesies which from time to time they have extended to American delegations which have visited these shores. The proverbial hospitality of our Chinese friends on these occasions has been unsurpassed and we trust they fully realise the appreciation in which we hold their very kindly actions.

"Satisfactory relations have been maintained with other national Chambers of Commerce, notably with the British, it having been found on a number of occasions that our purposes being identical, our combined efforts have proved to be most satisfactory.

VALUE TRADE REPORTS

"One of the activities during the past year has been the distribution of the semi-monthly trade reports issued by Mr. Julean Arnold, American Commercial Attache at Peking. These reports are quite voluminous and cover a multitude of subjects and are certainly very helpful to those interested in any of the matters therein dwelt with. Due to arrangements made by Mr. Arnold it has been possible to publish these reports locally before their publication in Washington thus enabling our members to have early advices with regard to any matters contained therein in which they may be interested.

"Mention should be made of the International Consortium which was established during the year 1920 and of which Mr. Frederick Stevens is the American representative. The purposes for which this organisation was devised are most commendable and it is to be regretted that thus far the chaotic condition of Chinese political and financial matters have prevented the consortium from carrying out the purposes for which it was organised. It is difficult to predict just how soon matters may reach a more normal state but it is felt that should this Consortium continue to function it will in due course be of great benefit to the Chinese Government and those having business connections therewith.

NOTABLE VISITORS

"During the year the Chamber at times on its own behalf and on occasion in conjunction with the American Association of China has extended its hospitality to notable visitors. During the year banquets have been fendered to Minister Schurman, to Governor General Wood, Admiral Strauss and to Major General Black. At the last dinner given to Minister Schurman representative Chinese officials and merchants including delegates from the Chamber of Commerce at Soochow were present in large numbers and it is felt that opportunities such as these for bringing together the merchants of the East and West under such auspices will certainly be helpful in the maintenance of amiable relations between our Chinese friends and ourselves.

"During October we were hosts to a delegation from the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce who remained several days in our midst and to whom every opportunity was given to familiarise themselves with local conditions. As on other occasions our Chinese friends extended their hospitality and materially aided in making their visit a success.

"Official visits were made us by both the Soochow and Wusih Chambers and every effort was made by representatives of this Chamber to see that these occasions should be a success. Delegations from this Chamber have also visited the Chambers at Hangchow, Ningpo and Tungchow. It is felt that closer and more frequent co-operation with the Chinese Chambers of Commerce located in surrounding centers should be encouraged and the manner in which our advances along these lines have been received indicates that much can be accomplished by this means toward bringing Chinese and American merchants into more complete accord and sympathy.

"As the membership is aware an international Tariff Revision Commission is now in session in Shanghai for the purpose of bringing the tariff rates to an effective five percent. Associated with the American Delegation is Mr. W. A. Burns of this Chamber whose long experience with commercial matters in this country have well qualified him for the responsibilities of this duty. The Chamber holds itself at the service of all its membership in any matters which may arise concerning this revision and is in readiness to put forth any representations which its members may desire to make in this connection.

DESCRIBES ACTIVITIES

"Among other matters the Chamber has given its support to the project for an additional cable line between America and the Far East with the object of speeding up telegraphic communications and obviating lapses in service which sometime occur when existing lines break down.

"The Chamber has also advocated the establishment of adequate and dignified consular premises at the various centers in China where the consular service is represented. The visible impression which the quarters in which our consular representatives are housed have upon the Chinese populace has never been sufficiently taken into account by our Congress and it is believed that a campaign looking toward a radical improvement over present conditions should be maintained until our object in this connection has been achieved.

"It is well to record that during the year under review permanent quarters have been acquired in the Robert Dollar Building which has enabled the Chamber to carry on its work much more satisfactorily than has been possible in the past. The offices are centrally located and easily available to members on any occasion when it is desired to call for information or in connection with its various activities.

"It is recommended to the membership that they make the largest possible use of the facilities of the Chamber and have no hesitancy in calling on its officers at any time for such information or assistance as it may be qualified to offer. In this connection it may be stated that in all matter of general American interest the office staff of the Chamber has frequently been utilised and is always willing to aid in carrying out activities which are of interest to Americans generally, and we feel that the Chamber is becoming an increasingly important element in the American life and interests of Shanghai. Among other activities the Chamber maintains an employment register and is frequently visited by persons in search of positions and receives calls from time to time from those of its members who desire to engage help. During the past year about 20 persons have obtained employment through the agency of the Chamber.

AMERICAN SCHOOL PLANS

"A most important enterprise, and one with which this Chamber has been closely identified from the moment it was decided to enlarge its activities is the Shanghai American School.

"It is needless to go largely into detail in connection with this most necessary institution. We all know what educational privileges mean to the American citizen and we realise the great value which comes from having in our midst facilities for fitting our children, all through the junior grades leading up to preparation for college.

"The progress made during the past year has been most satisfactory. The purchase of more than 100 mow of land, conveniently located near Avenue Joffre, has been completed, a temporary building for use of the primary school will be in readiness for the autumn term, and tenders for the erection of the main buildings of the group have been received and are under consideration. The school will be well staffed with capable instructors and the enlarged scope which the new institution offers will entirely remove the unfortunate condition which existed in the past when it was necessary, for educational purposes, to send children home at an early age.

"During the drive for funds last October more than Tls. 150,000 was subscribed to augment existing funds and the popularity of the movement was evidenced by the fact that nearly every American in Shanghai, together with quite a number from outports, as well as a number who are not Americans, became a contributor.

CHAMBER'S FINANCES

"Due to the fact that for some time the expenses of the Chamber had been considerably in excess of its normal receipts, its finances at the close of last year were in a rather unsatisfactory condition. There was a considerable outstanding which the ordinary income could not possibly cover.

"To meet this contingency a special subscription was invited and was liberally subscribed to. Even this aid, however, was insufficient, and it was determined to deal with the matter in such a way as to eliminate the necessity for these special calls, of which there have been several in the past. It was decided accordingly to advance the annual dues of the corporate members taking effect as from January 1 1922.

"To this necessary action the membership has cheerfully responded and although the increase in the dues was large no special loss of membership can be attributed thereto. The corporate members at this time on our rolls number 95 while the individual membership is 112.

"While there are yet some obligations to meet it is considered that these and all future expenditures can be cared for by our normal income so that although during the year its office facilities have been greatly improved and its permanent staff more definitely established it will be unnecessary in future to call upon our membership for any special contribution."

WHITHAM IS SPEAKER

Mr. Paul Page Whitham, chairman of the Whangpoo Conservancy committee, appointed by the chamber to meet with other bodies regarding the improvement of the Yangtsze Estuary made a brief report but one full of encouragement. He pointed out that the Whangpoo Conservancy existed by virtue of a treaty which must be amended if the Yangtsze Estuary is to be included in the improvement plans.

His committee, he said, had held meetings with committees of other nationals and all were getting closer in agreement as to the scope of the improvement necessary. It was hoped that all would finally agree since Shanghai now must take account for the future and put the doorway to her market in order for the continued easy access of the great tide of commerce that was coming to Asia.

Mr. Whitnam cited the prediction of Captain Robert Dollar, made a short time ago in San Francisco, that Asia within 25 years would see a vast increase in commerce and utilisation of resources such as no other country in the world had shown with the possible exception of the United States. Other men of large affairs, he said, had seen this coming and had manifested their faith in it, so that it was incumbent upon the American businessmen of Shanghai, in conjunction with all other nationalities, to get behind this movement to keep Shanghai the greatest port in Asia by aiding in the development of the port.

TRADE ACT TO PASS

Mr. J. B. Powell, honorary secretary of the chamber, who has recently returned from Washington where he has represented the Chamber in regard to the China Trade Act, opened his address by saying that he hoped this would be the last time he would have to speak on the progress of this act. The act, he said, passed the House of Representatives but has been held up in the Senate where Senators Lafollette of Wisconsin and King of Utah had been able to oppose its consideration as all the time of the Senate is being taken up by the tariff act.

That this opposition would shortly be pushed aside was indicated by a cablegram received yesterday, Mr. Powell said, from Senator Dyer of Missouri who has been fighting for the China Trade Act since its inception. The cablegram read:

"Senator Cummings of Iowa expects to obtain the consent of the Senate to have the China Trade Act precede the tariff debate some time next week."

Word also was received from the Chamber of Commerce of Portland Ore., that Senator McNary of Oregon has stated that the Act would be brought before the Senate during the tariff debate and adopted, despite all opposition.

Mr. Powell read a summary of the Act and after detailing the efforts of Senator Dyer in behalf of the American trade community in China, suggested that the Chamber show its appreciation of his work, possibly by having him come to China where he could learn of other matters in which he might be of assistance since he is deeply interested, although from a state where foreign commerce is not a vital matter.

LYMAN IS THANKED

A vote of thanks to Mr. Lyman for the work he had done as president during the past year was then given, Mr. Lyman in turn thanking his committee for its loyal support, and the members for upholding the committee in all measures it found necessary to pass.

Japanese Steamer Is Blamed For Collision

At the inquiry being held to fix the blame for the collision some weeks ago in the Whangpoo river of the steamer Eastern Sailor of the U. S. Shipping Board and the Sakaki Maru of the South Manchurian Railway company testimony given yesterday by Capt. Andrew E. Sandback, who has testified at preceding hearings, was to the effect that the officers of the Sakaki Maru were responsible for the accident. He said the Japanese vessel was on the wrong side of the channel when the accident occurred and was traveling at a speed of between seven and eight knots an hour while the Eastern Sailor was moving but slowly.

Maj. C. P. Holcomb, former U. S. District Attorney, who attended the hearing gave the legal status of the U. S. Shipping Board and said that Capt. W. I. Eisler, its representative in Shanghai was fully authorised to act in the case.

Alden for Yokohama to give greeting there to Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby who is coming to the Far East on the U. S. Transport Henderson and who after a short stay in Japan will come on to Shanghai. Commander E. W. Strother commands the Alden.

Admiral Strauss will participate in Secretary Denby's welcome to Japan, incident to the reunion of the famous class of 1881 of Annapolis, and will then accompany the Secretary of War to China. The Huron, Admiral Strauss' flagship, will sail from Shanghai on July 10 to take the Secretary and Admiral from Japan to Chinwangtao, from where they will go to Peking. The Secretary of War has been invited to pay an official visit to Peking by the President of China. From Peking Secretary Denby will come to Shanghai by rail.

PARTY REUNITES HERE

Some of the many noted naval authorities on the U. S. S. Transport Henderson, which is bringing the party to the Orient, will also come to Shanghai from Peking, and others will stay on the Henderson, visiting Nagasaki before the vessel arrives here on July 19. The party will reorganise here, some returning to the United States on commercial liners, and others continuing on to Manila, Guam and Honolulu on the Henderson.

The Alden will sail for Chefoo after the ceremonies at Yokohama and Tokio, joining the destroyer squadron, which will remain in port here until after the Fourth of July celebration. The Thirty-Seventh and Twelfth divisions are expected to return to the United States via Shanghai, Manila, Guam and Honolulu after the summer maneuvers, and because of the reduction of the American Navy it is expected to be the last time that the United States will make such a show of naval force in the Far East.

Details of a series of exchange transactions that form the basis of a legal action of the Banque Belge pour L'Etranger versus A. Attorney Fishman appeared for the defendant and Mr. Ranald Macdonald for the bank.

According to testimony given by Mr. Radomshelsky he had entered into a transaction for the purchase of a half million marks at the rate of 79 marks per tael through Mr. A. B. Needless Slaughter Of Fish Starts Riot

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, June 23.—A movement has been started by the fishermen in Fukagawa against the Fujikura Telegraph Wire Company at Susaki, which threatens to culminate in a serious disturbance. The complaint is that the fish in the Furagawa river are being killed by sulphuric acid discharged into the river after being used for factory purposes.

The fishermen, numbering 450, appointed a committee to appeal to the Company on the subject, but the latter has so far refused interviews on various pretexts. The sufferers accordingly stormed the residence of the Company officers last night and succeeded in eliciting a promise from the Company that the matter shall be put right in a month's time.

TREATIES BILL

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 28.—The Washington Treaties Bill passed the third reading in the House of Lords today.

BODY OF RIVER VICTIM FOUND; INQUEST OPENS

Blue Funnel Boatswain Loses His Life Also In Saving Fellow Seaman

Following the finding of the body of Mr. Thomas G. Rice, godown superintendent of Butterfield and Swire, who was drowned when he fell from a gangplank of the steamer Wuchang, an inquest was opened yesterday and was adjourned until the afternoon of July 7 after several witnesses were heard.

Efforts to recover the body that were made by the River Police all through Wednesday, the day after the drowning, proved futile, but it was observed floating on the surface near the Police Hulk early yesterday morning.

Mr. Norman Richardson of Butterfield and Swire who was well acquainted with Mr. Rice identified the body by means of documents found in the clothing and jewelry. He did not witness the tragedy but advanced the belief that no possible reason existed why Mr. Rice should take his own life.

Mr. Rice was about 40 years of age and is survived by a widow and three children.

Following this occurence another river tragedy that follows it took place late Wednesday night when Jacob Kelly, boatswain of the Blue Funnel Steamer Achilles lost his life in saving the life of a fellow seaman.

The Achilles is anchored off Holt's wharf, Pootung. The boatswain and two seamen were returning to the ship in the dark when one of the seamen lost his footing on the pontoon and fell into the water. Lying prone on the pontoon Kelly succeeded in gripping the drowning man but he was then pulled down into the water himself by the other's weight.

The second seaman assisted by a Chinese, who had brought a long bamboo boat hook, were able to fasten it in the clothing of the first man and he was dragged to the pontoon and resuscitated, but it was impossible to save Kelly. The body had not been recovered last night.

U. OF CAL. NET MEN MEET S. C. C. STARS TODAY

Barrett And Parbury To Play Best Pair Of Visiting Players

MATCHES COMMENCE AT 5

Sheldon And Gulick Listed In Second Match Of Afternoon

Weather permitting, the California University tennis stars who arrived here Wednesday will make their first public appearance against local players on the Shanghai Cricket Club courts this afternoon commencing at 5 p.m. Bates and Wilson, the two best of the visitors will pair against Barrett and Parbury, while Wilson and Jensen of the Californians will meet Sheldon and Gulick of the local club.

The California men are here fresh from a successful tour in which they won 12 out of 14 matches in Japan and with the scalp of Kumagae and Nomura hanging from their belts, the result of a wonderful doubles match with the two best tennis players in Japan. The men look to be in the pink of condition.

Rain may hold up the match carded for today with the Shanghai Cricket Club but a hot sun will put the courts in shape for play. Two doubles matches will be played.

Bates, the champion of all American college players, will pair with Conrad against Captain Barrett and Parbury while Wilson and Jensen will be the Californians to meet Sheldon and Gulick. Shelden and Gulick are both Americans while Captain Barrett and Parbury follow the English style of play. Incidentally it will be interesting to see Parbury play against Bates.

A feature of the visitors' play will be the doubles pair, Bates and Wilson. The former is about six feet and three inches in height while Wilson stands about three feet and six inches.

Bates and Wilson will be the team to face Parbury and Elmore, playing for Shanghai at the French Club tomorrow. Tanaka will probably play against Conrad and Sheldon will be sent against Jensen.

The second match against All Shanghai, which will bring Bates against Parbury, is set for the Fourth of July on the Race Course, at 5 o'clock, allowing the big crowd who will be at the ball game, to attend the tennis.

In announcing the schedule, Secretary M. B. Brown of the Lawn Tennis Association left two dates open, one on Sunday and the second next Friday, which will allow opportunity to move up matches cancelled by rain.

The visitors will leave here on the eighth of July and on their way back to America are to play a match in Tokio. They go back to San Francisco on the President Cleveland, formerly the Golden State of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company.

HOREMANS SETS NEW HIGH MARK FOR BILLIARDS

Edward Horemans, Belgian cue star, established what experts declared was the highest run on record, when he tallied 818 straight points at 18.2 balkline billiards.

Horemans made the run in a three-block special match of 900 points with Edward W. Gardner of New York, former national amateur champion. The Belgian had an unfinished run of 297 in the first block and in the second block ran out the block of 300 points, taking the balls where he left off the day before. He rolled up 221 points before missing an easy one-cushion shot to make his 819th point. The final score of the match was 900 to 84.

While Horemans' mark is the longest on record in the memory of veteran followers of the game, it will not go down as an official record, it was pointed out since it was made in an exhibition match. The highest run officially recognised was made by W. F. Hoppe when the former champion ran up 622 points in a match with the Frenchman, Oure, in Paris, in 1911. Horemans is said to have held the previous unofficial high run, 701, made two years ago.

GINK WAS PRIDE OF HOME TOWN

Champion Always Fought In A Ring With Whipping Posts In The Corners

BY "BUGS" BAER

Sirloin—

When Gink was umpire in the Boobs League, every player used to take a couple of season passes at his jaw. If they landed, Gink was out for the season.

Once The Glutt was playing second for West Horror. The Glutt was disguised as a non-essential war luxury. He let loose at Gink, and the Roughtown dinner champion tore off a double-header.

If Gink didn't flop on the first punch, he used to hand out rain checks.

I remember the time that he rushed out to the foul line in center field. Four fence jumpers banged him for a row of philanthropic institutions.

If Gink was an umpire then the Crown Prince has a chin.

Yours until it becomes compulsory.

JOE SAVAGE,
Orange, N. J.

What license has Orange to bawl out Roughtown? That's enough to make a baby eat its Christmas toys.

We remember Joe Savage when he used to shadow box and think it was a gang fight. Once they matched Joe with Gink's little brother, aged seven, and the kid knocked him for a wagonful of tombstones.

Very few folks know the history of Roughtown. Do you remember the story of Cadmus grabbing out the dragon's false choppers and planting them? Wherever Cad planted the porcelain molars they sprouted into tough warriors.

Well, that's how Roughtown was started. Not from dragon's teeth but from porcupine quills.

And Gink was the main quill.

They depended on their heat from forest fires. They got their water from cloudbursts. And a man would wreck a train just to talk to the conductor.

There was nothing picayune about that town. It was a hay weighing burg. Everything on a big scale.

If a stranger started to pull open a door the doorknob was so powerful that it would pull the stranger through the keyhole.

If a lion had a big, shaggy mane, the folks would chase him around the house to dust off the furniture. Tough city.

MLLE. LENGLEN WINS IN FIRST MATCH OF YEAR

Her Usual Brilliant Play Gives Easy Win Over Mrs. Ellis

NORTON WINS KEY GAMES

Win Over Anderson From South Africa Big Step To Title

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 28.—It was drizzling with rain when play opened at Wimbledon today and towards the end of the day it became a downpour.

Interest centered on Mlle. Lenglen's initial appearance, the inter-Colonial battle between the favorites, Mr. Norton and Mr. Anderson, and the Franco-Spanish contest between M. Brugnon and Senor Alonzo.

Mlle. Lenglen was brilliant, but was not extended in her match with Mrs. Ellis, whom she beat 6-0, 6-0.

M. Brugnon's accurate volleying and beautiful placing was responsible for the unexpected defeat of Senor Alonzo 6-3, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3, but the most surprising event of the day was the decisive defeat of last year's challenger, Mr. Norton, over whom Mr. Anderson always had compete mastery, winning 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

The Australian's terrific service, accuracy in driving and perfect placing left the South African helpless.

This was regarded as the key-match of the Championship.

The only changes in our official quotations here today were a drop in the Gold Dollar rate to 78, in the Yen rate to 61½, and in the Franc rate to 930.

Our market was very quiet here today but steady.

There were sellers of Sterling at 3-7 for June-July, and buyers at the same rate for August-September.

There were sellers of Gold Dollars at 79 for June-July, and buyers forward at this rate.

A small business was done at these quotations.

There were few bills offering today.

Four months' sight Sterling bills were done at 3-7⅞, and Gold Dollars at 80½.

China bought silver in London yesterday, and the market there is reported as steady.

New York report their market as dull, with sellers at the official quotation.

Exchange Market

Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows in their exchange circular for week ending Wednesday:

Exchange:—The London price of silver has moved within comparatively narrow limits during the past week, and today's quotation of 36⅛d. both ready and forward is the same as this day last week. The market is reported quiet and steady with China buying.

Locally the exchange market has ruled steady, the official T.T. rate on London remaining unchanged throughout at 3s. 6½d.

An undertone of firmness has been noticeable until today, but although a few Francs and Gold Dollar bills have been placed, business in regard to imports and exports is still very small, and the chief support to the market is again to be traced to the operations of gold dealers. A different tone prevails today, there being a good demand on the part of Chinese for sterling, with the result that the market closes easier with the following rates obtainable, T.T. on London 3s. 6⅞d., on New York 78¾.

The New York-London rate is quoted at 441¾ and London-Paris at 52.75.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar Silver Tls. 32.011.000, an increase of Tls. 4,986,000.

Chinese and Mexican Dollars $33.770.000, an increase of $690.000.

Estimated value Tls. 56.325.000 as against Tls. 52.247,000 held at this time last year.

Coal Market

Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows in their coal market report of yesterday.

Japan Coal:—The urgent demand for this coal—caused by the stoppage of coal from Chinwangtao—seems to have been more or less satisfied for the present and only a small amount of new business has been done but the market in Japan continues firm on account of the increased demand from all sides.

Fushun Coal:—No change

Fuchung Anthreacite:—The demand during the past fortnight has been brisk and a fair amount of new business has been done at quotations and the close the market is steady.

Kaiping Coal:—No supplies have been received during the last two weeks and at time of writnig there is no news of any immediate shipment. Stocks are completely exhausted.

Freight Market

In their fortnightly report on the freight market, Messrs. Wheelock and Company write as follows:

Conditions in the export trade from China to Europe and America remain unchanged and there nothing of any interest to report.

To United Kingdom and Continent:—The only item of interest worth nothing is tha the China Homeward Conference has reduced the rate from Hankow for direct loading steamers in order to meet the reduction in freights on River steamers from Hankow to Shanghai.

To United States via Pacific:—There is a certain amount of tea going forward by mail lines and no doubt the recent drop in the rail rates overland has something to do with this otherwise there is nothing fresh to report.

Coastwise:—There is no change to report in the coating trade since last writing, if anything, matters are worse as there is quite a lot of tonnage lying idle.

Spinners Object To Duty On Gloves

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 28.—At a meeting of the Committee of the Federation of Master Cotton Spinners at Manchester yesterday, a resolution was passed protesting against the proposed import duty on fabric gloves, which, it was pointed out, would seriously interfere with Lancashire's Egyptian yarn trade. It was decided to seek an interview with the Prime Minister.

Dr. Wang Chung-hui Sees Hope For Reunification

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, June 26.—In a special interview given to the editor of this service, Dr. Wang Chung-hui, Minister of Justice, and member of the Chinese delegation to Washington, frankly gave his views on the problems facing the new government, tempered with his experiences at the Conference.

Dr. Wang sees great hope in the reunification of the North and South at the present moment. He feels that the new Cabinet is a strong one, which should be very well able to weather any storms until Parliament meets on August 1st. He says this Parliament is considered the only lawful body in China that can draft a Constitution, and if it fails to do so, he cannot see what can then be done. With their power under the provisional constitution to elect a president and to draft a permanent document, he thinks political settlement surely must come to China. However, he adds that China always accepts de facto situations very willingly, as for instance the present position of General Chen Chiung-ming in Canton.

Dr. Wang puts the financial worries into two categories, first the temporary tiding over of the Government for the next month or so. This requires but a million or two dollars and should be very easy. The bigger worry is to so reform and revise the financial system that the Provinces will remit a proper quota of their taxes to help run the National Government. To this end there must be a new system of taxation. Today China taxes the poor out of all proportion to the way it levies on the rich. In other countries it is just the opposite.

The likin comes in for abolition under his scheme and the customs would be boosted to 12½ percent. With a sweeping revision and proper remission from the provinces, China would be able to run the government perfectly well without making financial demands on foreign countries.

SALARIES IN ARREARS

The Ministry of Justice is two or three months in arrears in payment of its salaries. However, Minister Wang says he expects to meet these payments shortly on money saved from other departments of the government by the new retrenchment policy. His monthly budget covering the Ministry of Justice, the courts, and prisons in Peking is only $130,000. The provinces are at present meeting the expenses of the courts outside of Peking.

Dr. Wang further said that the judicial branch of the government is ready to take its place in the vanguard of a reformed China. The other Ministries have first to do destructive work in order to clear out the bad spots of the past. His Ministry is prepared for constructive measures. These measures will take the form of codification of laws, which has been going on for the past few years, the reorganisation of the courts and simplification of procedure so that red tape may be cut out and a speedier system of justice put in its place. When asked how long it takes to have a case settled by the Supreme Court, Dr. Wang, replied that it averaged less than six months. This would be considered rather good time in America.

Probably the biggest job before the Ministry of Justice now is the preparation for the abolition of extraterritoriality as provided by the Washington Conference. At the request of China, the meeting of the Commission was postponed for one year in order to give time for the collection of statistics and the presentation of China's case in the best way possible.

This Commission will be prepared to consider any plan which the Chinese members will present and it is expected that its work will take about one year.

PLAN SPECIAL COURTS

Dr. Wang mentioned one scheme which has been given consideration. That is for the gradual changing from the present system of having foreign courts in the treaty ports through an intermediate Chinese special court, to the final regular Chinese court for trying foreigners. This scheme was adopted in Siam when extraterritoriality was abolished and it worked very satisfactorily.

These special courts would be established in the treaty ports, and would be composed of Chinese judges before which foreign attorneys could appear if the parties so desired. After a period of trial, (Dr. Wang put this at ten or fifteen years) these special courts could then be amalgamated into the ordinary Chinese judicial system and the country would be completely freed from internal foreign control. In Siam the change covered about ten years.

Dr. Wang said that he believed the judges to be men of good calibre and honest. Judges are appointed directly by the President or else are recommended to him for that purpose. Their term of office is for life and they can only be impeached through the decision of the Disciplinary Commission for Judicial Officers, chairman of which is the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and which is always organised and ready to sit in Peking.

The Supreme Court consists of thirty members, and is divided into six divisons, two criminal and four civil, which are in reality separate courts. The Chief Justice reviews all death sentences. This large court of appeal is necessary since all such cases come in from the Provinces in every part of China and means a tremendous amount of work. Despite the political split in the country, every Province except Kwantung continued to send cases to the Supreme court in Peking. Dr. Wang said there will be some interesting cases after reunification, when the losing party decides to appeal his case to Peking on the ground that a decision handed down by the Supreme Court of Kwantung is not legal as the court itself was illegal.

In answer to the question whether he considered the Law Schools efficient, Dr. Wang said he felt that they were, although he would like to have more practical court work introduced into the courses, both in the way of more courts and attendance at regular trials.

The new board of directors of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce will elect its chairman on July 23. Mr. Sun Han-chang, manager of the Bank of China, is generally favored for the chairmanship of the chamber. Neither Mr. C. C. ASSAULT CASE HEARD

Following a controversy with a house boy in his home Dr. Chadwick J. Kew, dentist, of No. 17 Carter Road was called yesterday in the British Police Court to answer a charge of assault that had been made against him by the boy. After a considerable amount of conflicting testimony was presented Magistrate G. W. King held that Doctor Kew was blamable to a certain degree and ordered that he pay the costs of the case.

Burden Of Proof On Defendants In Opium Violations

Placing the burden of proof on the defendants in cases where opium paraphernalia were found on their premises, American Assessor Jacobs in the Mixed Court yesterday declared that hereafter in such cases the defendants will have to prove that the pipes, etc., were not being used for illegal purposes.

The ruling came in the case of five Chinese charged with opium violations. Several pipes, tins of opium and scales had been confiscated by the police.

"The presumption is on the accused in such cases," Assesor Jacobs interrupted. "If opium and opium pipes are found on arrested persons it is up to them to explain why they have them. If they are old pipes and lamps and are not being used why do they keep them? Why don't they throw them away? In these cases the presumption is the same as if a man walking on the street were arrested with a revolver in his pocket. It is up to him to explain why he has it—not the police."

All five were fined $3.

U. S. Associate On Tariff Revision Committee Here

Mr. Henry Blackwood, associate on the American Delegation to the China Tariff Revision Commission, arrived in Shanghai with Mrs. Blackwood on the President McKinley. Mr. and Mrs. Blackwood are taking up their residence with Mr. and Mrs. Julean Arnold at 114 Kiaochow Road during their sojourn in Shanghai. The promoter is a wealthy Chinese named Fan Fah-yuan. The building, which will be of reinforced concrete and of six storeys, will be erected at a cost of half a million dollars while the equipment will be valued at $300,000.

All modern conveniences will be provided at the hotel, which will have 250 rooms, each having a private bath room and closets. It will be steam-heated, having a roof garden and a spacious recreation ground.

Medhurst Holds Closing Exercises

Closing exercises in connection with which prizes for the year were awarded were held at Medhurst College on Wednesday in the presence of a large gathering.

Following singing of the school song by the gathering a prayer was offered by the Rev. G. S. Sparham after which the Principal, the Rev. H. Bunce spoke making reference to a recent generous gift received from the Chamber of Commerce with which it is hoped to establish an elementary course in science. He said a school library also is being planned.

An interesting program was provided by pupils after which an inspiring address was made by Mr. E. M. Gull, Secretary of the British Chamber of Commerce.

War Debt Cancellation

THE Paris correspondent of The New York Times has sent to his paper an interesting account of the speculations which some French bankers and Government officials are indulging in as respects the possible effect on German reparations of a plan to cancel international war debts all round—what M. Poincare calls "most formidable attempts to subordinate international loans to a new amputation of our claims against Germany." An idea of this sort seems to lie behind what Lloyd George has been saying. At Genoa he loyally stood by the agreement not to bring the German reparations into public discussion. Even now he announces his desire to work harmoniously with the French Government on that subject and all others. Yet he distinctly implies that if France could be released from her debt to England, and still more from her debt to the United States, she might consent to cut her bill against Germany in half. Support for his view was seemingly given by the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Robert Horne, in an address to the British Bankers' Association recently. Touching on the whole question of international indebtedness, he said:

"The bill of reparations which was originally presented to Germany, and on which various calculations were made, included a large sum which each nation had been compelled to incur as a burden in order to meet the obligations of the war. I do not think I am wrong in saying that one-half of the bill presented to Germany is the result of the meeting in London which drew up the schedule of payment—half of that bill was composed of debts which the Allies owed to each other. Therefore, when you begin to deal with the reparations bill you cannot get very far before you get right up against the problem of interallied indebtedness."

In saying this the British Chancellor must have completely forgotten Part VIII. of the Treaty of Versailles, dealing with the question of reparations. Nowhere does it mention the war debt of the allied countries. It gives ten specifications of the kind of compensation that may be claimed from Germany on account of damages caused in the war, but among them the financial obligations of the nations at war with Germany are not included. Sir Robert Horne should refresh his memory by rereading the solemn terms of the Versailles Treaty. While Germany was held morally accountable for "all the loss and damage" wrought by her in the war, it was freely recognised that her resources were not adequate to make "complete reparation." But it was added:

"The allied and associated Governments, however, require, and Germany undertakes, that she will make compensation for all damage done to the civilian population of the allied and associated Powers and to their property during the period of the belligerency of each as an allied or associated Power against Germany, by such aggression by land, by sea and from the air, and in general all damage as defined in Annex I. hereto."

M. Poincare's refusal to trade debt reduction against a loan was to be expected. It cannot be that France is ready to treat this debt of Germany as if it were merely an ordinary national obligation. It stands as a thing apart. It was included in the treaty as a measure of retributive justice. The French Devastated Departments were the mute but sufficient witnesses to what Germany ought to pay. And the lapse of three years since the treaty was signed placing this just burden upon Germany cannot have obliterated the motives which the French and the other signatories of the Versailles Treaty had in endeavoring to assure this great act of international right. Whatever France may be willing to do concerning other war debts, she cannot be willing to impair or withdrew the sanctions which were thrown around the bill of Germany for reparations. No financial arrangement, no setting of one class of obligations against another, should ever be permitted to obscure the justice of the penalty which was imposed upon Germany for her aggressive beginning of the war and for her ruthless destruction of property in its course.

All this is, of course, not to say that there is anything sacred in the exact amount fixed for German reparations. The Paris Peace Conference was wise enough to know that it could not read the distant future, and consequently lodged with the Reparation Commission the duty of fixing from time to time the schedule of German payments, and reducing the total if it should be found necessary. Hence the sole question today and for years to come is not whether Germany ought to pay but how much she can pay. The sooner a definite sum can be authoritatively fixed, the sooner will Germany and all the rest of the world be able to make comprehensive plans for financial restoration. But into none of these plans ought there to enter any denial of German guilt and just obligation to make amends, so far as possible, for the havoc and misery which Germany deliberately caused in the great war.

Oh, Ladies, Is It True?

Here's disquieting news, says an Exchange. Ernest P. Bennett, a Boston corset manufacturer, declares that within the past few years the feminine waist line in America has increased from 21 to between 27 and 28 inches. He attributes this startling growth to the "no-corset" fad.

Let us hope that the Congress takes prompt action to inquire into this matter. A joint investigating committee should be appointed by the Senate and the House to ascertain the facts and propose a remedy. The tariff and other pending legislation can safely wait.

The members of this committee should be carefully selected. Only those with arms of normal length can do useful work. Because, you see, Mr. Bennett may have been mistaken and it may turn out that, owing to the war, men's arms have grown shorter.

It is, after all, a matter of the length of a man's arm. If her beau's arm is 38 or 40 inches long, a waist of 27 inches really makes no difference. If, however, honeybunch's arm has shrunk to 8 or 10 inches in length, you can readily perceive that lovey-dovey either has to cut out potatoes and cream and proceed to reduce or she has to go back to corsets.

We confess that we are not an authority upon the subject, but, as far as we can ascertain, the majority of the lads prefer the "no-corset" waist. They say that corset steels sometimes stick out and scratch the hand. Believing in democracy, as we do, we are on the side of the majority.

Let us not, however, be hasty in our actions. Remember that this Mr. Bennett is in the corset business.

In France if you fight with long swords, spreading your legs apart, lunging and parrying, it is all right. You are a gentleman and the duel is une affaire d'honneur.

But if you fight a duel with short knives instead of long swords you are a ruffian and go to jail.

They have just sentenced French criminals, "Apaches," for a short knife duel about a woman. One was killed. The other and witnesses went to jail.

Even in the French Republic and in fighting there is "class consciousness," as our Socialist friends would call it.

A judge discussing crime wave advocates flogging "hold-up" men. They remind you that such flogging of highwaymen produces excellent results in Canada, England and our State of Delaware. No doubt severe flogging would intimidate highwaymen, frightening them, as prison does not frighten them.

The average hold-up man, undersized, underfed, small-brained and cowardly, would look upon the whip, well applied, with deadly fear. He would be EVEN more frightened of other tortures, burning, the rack or thumbscrew.

The question is not what would frighten highwaymen, but what punishment should a race calling itself civilised inflict?

Tortures that would frighten criminals would do more harm than good to civilisation, and in the end produce more criminals.

A misguided person, speaking for Harvard, says membership is becoming too big, which causes "talk about the proportion of Jews at the college."

Dean Greenough corrects the blunder by announcing that there will be no discrimination at Harvard against Jews or any other citizens. It's a good announcement, ought to stand. And there is a simple way to make it stand.

Deprive college or other concerns, including the Young Men's Christian Association, of tax exemption on its real estate the moment it is convicted of race or religious discrimination. That would discourage nonsense.

Mr. Swanton, virtuous Mayor of Traverse City, Michigan, has ordered police to lock up girls or women appearing in knickerbockers. His explanation is: "The morals of the present generation of boys are being assailed, and I won't let them be tempted by immoral dress."

Young women wearing knickerbockers display legs, straight or bent, from the knees down. Young men wearing knickerbockers do the same. Why are twelve inches of female leg bad for boys' morals and the same length of a boy's leg harmless as regards girls' morals.

Knickerbockers are the most "moral" costume that women can wear. The skirt was invented for the harem, where they didn't want morals—or knickerbockers.

The wonderful little Swiss nation, efficient, democratic, honest, so well prepared for defense that no one dares attack, now faces a yearly deficit of one hundred million francs. That is twenty millions of our money, at par, and they take it seriously. Here it wouldn't be worth mentioning; we are good spenders and the people very docile taxpayers.

A man on trial for selling fake oil stocks told his victims, "We are almost certain to find a lake of gold, $100,000,000 would be cheap for our holdings," etc. The man told the truth. For "We" meant himself and his crowd, and whoever goes after the foolish American investor in the right way is Absolutely certain to find a lake of gold.

It is a lake that never dries up. Millions spend their lives in hard work and slow saving at any moment ready to exchange the work and savings for the lying promises of some scoundrel. And no amount of warning or exposure seems to change it.

Education of the people will be the only remedy. And perhaps on the whole the present system is part of a Providential plan. Experience is the best education. He who loses his savings goes on working, which is better for him and the country, probably, than the few years of idleness that he had promised himself.

-:- Acting As Education -:-

BY THE SPECTATOR

On the occasion of the Shakespeare birthday celebration at Stratford on Avon, an interesting day in the program was devoted to the subject of the drama in schools.

Some of the ideas that came out in the discussion were important as bearing on the place of acting in education.

Mr. E. G. A. Holmes, whose book, when published a few years ago, attracted much attention, presided.

He stated that the things that struck him in children studying and practising the drama was their radiant happiness.

Their natural instincts had been fostered in the best way by self expresssion.

Mrs. Weller, another speaker, declared that the old idea of education emphasised repression too much.

All that mere discipline and time table teaching could produce was tired, jaded cynics.

Acting did much to dispel the miasma of a stagnant soul and gave the child an opportunity of rubbing brains with the best English writers.

She would have the children act Shakespeare and the great dramas of other authors. Nothing was too good for them.

A Greek play, as translated by Professor Murray, she had found so popular that a cook she was engaging stipulated that she should not take up her duties until after its performance.

She held, however, that it was well to encourage children to make plays for themselves. The children under her care had produced a play dealing with the adventures of Charles II. in France, and one drama of African and another of Australian life.

Another speaker gave as his conviction that in many cases a boy would get more from drama than from the study of Latin and Greek. He would have the boys act a great variety of plays. The only thing he would not have them act was trash.

The point was brought out that the average schoolboy had to work off his feelings somehow, and all his forth-putting should not be confined to the schoolyard. The drama here was of great value.

Other ideas were that the drama did much to end selfishness and conceit.

It encouraged team play, and when the teachers acted with the boys the relation between them became much closer.

One speaker declared that the younger boy cares only for plot and is indifferent to character, and is in his own conception the person he is supposed to be, while the older boy is more interested in character, and never for a moment forgets that he is pretending to be somebody else.

It was urged that an important task awaits the best of our writers in the making of plays suitable for acting by boys and girls. School libraries were full of books for boys' reading. Why should there be so few suitable plays?

The function of drama in the school was to produce freedom from self-consciousness, a good speaking voice, free bodily movement and an esprit de corps.

In the school of the future, without doubt acting will have a very prominent place, and its educational value will be more recognised than it is now.

The Making Of Dwarfs And Giants

BY HENRY S. WILLIAMS

The traditional question as to whether a man by taking much thought can add a cubit to his stature must still be answered in the negative.

But it is not so certain that a man by taking thought—associated with proper action—may not add at least a fraction of a cubit to the stature of his growing children, over and above the stature that heredity and ordinary normal diet would cause them to attain.

Justification for this suggestion is found in experiments that have been made with growing animals; notably, the recently reported tests made at the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, in which young salamanders have been made to attain gigantic size by special feeding.

Mr. E. Uhlenhuts, in reporting the experiments, tells us that tests extending over three years have demonstrated that salamanders may be made to attain a size exceeding by 96 percent that of their normal companions, if fed on a diet which includes the substance of a little glandular body, called the pituitary body, which is found at the base of the brain of all higher animals, including man.

Salamanders fed on liver attained a size considerably in excess of that of any specimens that were fed on the normal diet of earthworms; but the veritable giants of the tribe were produced only by feeding the substance of the pituitary gland.

There appears to be no question that it was this particular diet which made the giants.

These results are not altogether unexpected, for it has long been suspected that there is an association between the little pituitary body and the abnormal stature of human giants.

The pituitary is an important member of that extraordinary company of so-called ductless glands scattered throughout the body, the secretions of which, known as hormones, pass directly into the blood, and are believed by the modern physiologist to exercise a controlling influence over not merely the stature but the temperament and personality of the individual.

Such studies as those just referred to, in which the normal hereditary limitations of size of the salamander are overcome by giving an artificial supply of the secretion which at least in part controls growth, are thus seen to be fundamental.

Boundless possibilities are suggested in the application of the knowledge thus acquired to the human race.

Already the hormones are being used extensively by physicians in the treatment of disease, and a beginning has been made in their use to stimulate normal growth, physical and mental, in backward children.

It should be added, however, that our knowledge of the subject is as yet very incomplete, and that the experiment of feeding pituitary body to warm blooded animals has not met with the same success just reported in the case of the salamanders.

On the other hand, brilliant results are already attained in the treatment of certain maladies known to be associated with defects of one or another of the ductless glands, notably the thyroid.

There are cases on record in which the difference between imbecility and normal mentality is determined solely by the exhibition of a few grains of thyroid extract.

The results of the use of pituitary extracts in medicine are not as yet so spectacular, although sometimes interesting and encouraging, but the experiments in which the giant salamander figures are pretty sure to lead to renewed studies of the relation between the activities of the curious little brain gland and human stature.

It is not over-sanguine to hope that a way may be found to add at least a reasonable fraction of a cubit to the size of a great many children who are of sub-normal development.

One Young Jew— Think About Him

(New York Journal)

One year ago Solomon Dabinski came here from Poland, a Jew, speaking no English. Yesterday, while working hard for a living in the Victor ("His Master's Voice") factory, Dabinski was told that he had won the bronze medal given by the National Society of Colonial Daughters of Washington for the best patriotic essay in English. He smiled and went on with his work.

Does the average young non-Jewish American think he could go to Russia, or Poland not knowing the language, and in a year win first prize for a competition in Russian or Polish, while working for a living in a factory? Think that over. Dabinski in his essay quoted John Richard Green's "History of the English People." He found time to read that while working in the factory. If we spent more time studying the good things in others, there would be less race and religious hate.

BRITISH MOTHER IN BURMA

Tells How Baby's Own Tablets Helped Her Infant Daughter.

Mrs. Austin-Brown, wife of Sergeant Austin-Brown of the Rangoon Police, writes: "My daughter Jessie, aged 16 months, suffered very much with constipation until I gave her Baby's Own Tablets. After the use of 2 vials she became entirely free from constipation.

"When she was teething I also used Baby's Own Tablets with entirely satisfactory results. She is now as healthy a child as can be found anywhere."

No home where there are little children should be without Baby's Own remedy. Guaranteed absolutely harmless to even the youngest infant, they are of the utmost value in cases of infantile indigestion, simple fever, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, teething troubles, croup and colds.

Obtainable at all leading druggists, or post free, 60 cents per vial, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Bartlett Tells Aims Of Rotary In Tiffin Speech

The aims and ideals of Rotary were set forth by Willard W. Bartlett, principal of the American School, who delivered the principal address yesterday at the weekly tiffin meeting of the Shanghai Rotary Club at the Union Club.

Mr. Bartlett said that one of the aims of Rotary is to elevate all profesions to that position held by physicians, teachers and ministers of the gospel in the world of service.

"The motto of Rotary is service." he said. "Rotary is to help you, through your business, serve humanity better. It is an organization of friendship, fellowship, life, close association and activity. It is an organisation which attaches a new meaning to the word 'service.'

"Rotary brings to the business man more energy and more realisation of opportunities to serve Shanghai and China better through Rotary's aims and ideals. You will work harder and be happier in your work with Rotary."

Four new members, included Julean Arnold, U. S. Commercial Attache and Dr. W. W. Peter of the Council on Health Education, were initiated at the meeting.

Dr. Wu's Death Causes Muddle Over Premiership

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, June 26.—Since the death of Dr. Wu Ting-fang at Canton has once more thrown the question of the Premiership into uncertainty, the campaign of opposition to Dr. Yen, Mr. Tung Kang and Mr. Kao Eng-hung which is being waged by certain sections of the Chinese press in Peking, has become greatly intensified, and among other reports it is stated that these three officials have lost favor in the eyes of Generals Wu Pei-fu and Tsao Kun.

Inquiries among those who are understood to be in close touch with the two military leaders in question have elicited the information that this is by no means the case.

General Wu Pei-fu is said to have expressed himself as firmly convinced that Dr. Yen, as a neutral among the various striving political factions, is a most important factor in the maintenance of political truce at this crucial period, and that it is consequently a matter of urgent importance that he should remain at his post.

Regarding Messrs. Kao Eng-hung and Tung Kang, General Wu is quoted as having recently remarked to an associate that the enmity shown them in certain quarters must be regarded as a natural sequel of their policy of retrenchment, and not taken as indicating the attitude of the people of China toward them.

It is stated that a concerted effort is in progress by several former members of the Cabinet to regain office, and that the attacks on the three Ministers in question form a part of their campaign.

The discontent which reigns among the recently discharged government employes together with the fact that various subsidies to newspapers have been cut off by the new administration has furnished ample material for the prosecution of this campaign. Up to the present, however, it appears not to have affected the political situation so far as the more stable elements are concerned.

Where you are sure of satisfaction.

AGE is no indication of eye condition. Many aged people do not need to wear glasses, whereas many children need them at an early age.

Sometimes children, otherwise bright and intelligent, are backward in school on account of defective eyesight which is entirely unsuspected.

Let us test the eyes of your children. Be sure that you know whether or not their eyes are all right.

Rubber Growers To Invite Government To Submit Scheme

(Reuter's Service)

The Hague, June 28.—The International Association of Rubber Growers of the Dutch Indies yesterday decided by 383 votes to 125 to invite the Government to consider measures to improve the situation of the rubber industry.

The nature of the measures will be decided shortly by a committee appointed to discuss the matter with the Dutch Government. The Burger scheme (cabled yesterday) will also be studied.

London, June 28.—The report that the Dutch Rubber Growers' Association had decided in favor of restriction led to excitement at Mincing Lane yesterday evening, the spot price of rubber jumping three farthings to eight and a half pence a pound for standard kinds.

London, June 28.—The rubber decision at the Hague is regarded of vital importance in British circles. It is hoped that in view of the large majority in favor of action the Dutch Government will join the British Government in enforcing a plan to put the industry on a sound basis.

Messrs. Sanderson & Co. have communicated the following to Reuter's Agency:

"The rubber community is excited at the news from Holland. While it is satisfactory, it is only the first step towards Government control and undoubtedly a lot of discussion will take place before any scheme is agreed to. In the meantime it must be remembered that there is still a large minority opposed to control, presumably chiefly Dutch.

"Although we consider that an immense stride has been taken towards restriction and we think that it will eventually come to pass, we do not consider ourselves justified in considering any scheme as assured. We shall be prepared for many hitches and difficulties before our troubles are over."

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, June 25.—Admiral Tsai Ting-kang, Vice Chairman of the Tariff Reform Commission now sitting in Shanghai, has telegraphed to the Government that the portions of the schedule covering metals and hardware have been agreed upon except on mails, which the Americans have requested to be held open pending further investigation.

He also adds that agreement has been made on liquors, with the exception of beer and its associated drinks which will be discussed more fully at the next meeting.

Kiangsi Residents Still Fear Looters

(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, June 28.—Advices from Kiangsi state that as a sequel to the arrival there of reinforcements of the Northern troops the situation in that province has on the contrary become more restless than ever and that merchants at large are now feeling uneasy for fear of looting and clashes between the reinforcements from different parts of the North.

It is reported that the withdrawal of Northern troops from Yochow has been postponed for the present owing to disapproval on the part of Tsao Kun as the result, it is reported, of General Chang Fu-lai, Commander-in-Chief of the Northern troops stationed at Yochow, using his influence with Tsao Kun.

Heavy Downpour Inundates Peking

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, June 26.—The ten months drought in this area has been broken during the last three days by terrific downpours. This morning the Government Observatory reported 20.9 inches, but from the looks of the streets, two feet would have been nearer. Between Morrison Street and the Hotel Peking, motor cars were stuck up to their hubs in the lake, and from the Italian Legation to the gate of Sir Francis Aglen's residence, Rue Marco Polo was a perfect duck pond. The canal running through the Legation Quarter at last lived up to its name and would have made splendid boating.

British Subjects Seized By Bandits

(Reuter's Service)

Mexico City, June 28.—The majority of the employees of the Cortez Oil Company, who have been seized by bandits, are reported to be British subjects and the remainder Americans. The Secretary for War has directed a Government commander to pursue a vigorous campaign against the bandits who are believed to number 300.

Japanese Editors Applaud Plan To Leave Siberia

(Delta News Agency)

Tokio, June 20.—The Hozi demands from the new Cabinet instead of the old militaristic policy a new peaceful, economic policy with the immediate evacuation of the Japanese troops from Siberia, as the continuation of the occupation threatens the loss of the great Siberian market and the increase of suspicion on the part of foreign Powers, and the hatred of the Russians towards the Japanese.

All these have to be done away with entirely with a view to getting rid of the suspicion of the Powers, a new policy is required. Japan must try to avoid an isolated position, into which Japan may fall as a result of two new world's greatest factors, namely, the Anglo-American understanding and the Russo-German alliance.

The Siogio in an editorial welcomes the decision of the Japanese Government to withdraw Japanese troops from Hankow, Peking and Tientsin, about which the Ministry of Foreign Affairs has instructed Mr. Obata to begin negotiations with the Chinese Government. As regards the intention of the Japanese Government to diminish the number of Japanese troops along the zone of the South Manchuria Railway, the paper says that better it would be to withdraw entirely the so-called independent division, which guards the South Manchuria line. The paper says that the Japanese people do not hide their surprise that the War Ministry has agreed to such a step by the Government.

233 Members Of Old Parliament Are Now At Capital

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, June 26.—Members of the Old Parliament held a meeting last Saturday in the House of Representatives Building, with the Speaker of the Senate, Mr. Wang Ching-hsing in the chair. Mr. Wu Ching-lin, Speaker of the House of Representatives, made a report on the question of allowances for the members of Parliament. Each member will be entitled to $200 traveling expenses.

He stated that representatives had been sent to Canton and Shanghai to welcome the southern delegates. These delegates, however, hesitate about coming north since they feel their attachment to the constitution.

Thus far there are 233 members in Peking and it is hoped to have 166 more come so that a quorum will be assured. Due to various causes, there are 48 vacancies in the ranks of this number, 3 are deaths.

Common People's Salt Interests Wu And Tsao Kun

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, June 26.—Generals Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu have sent a telegram to the Peking Government commenting on the difficulties in salt transportation. They point out the grave need of salt by the common people and ask that better transportation be provided into the interior.

This would benefit the Central Government by returning a greater revenue from the salt merchants. They have also wired the Ministry of Communications, requesting steps be taken to provide rolling stock to relieve the tie-up.

British Laborites Reject Communists

(Reuter's Service)

London, June 28.—The National Labor Conference at Edinburgh has rejected the application of the Communist Party for affiliation with the Labor Party by a card vote of 3,086,000 against 261,000.

Mr. Frank Hodges said that the British Communists were the intellectual slaves of Moscow and it was impossible for the British race to accept unchallenged the decrees of any dictator.

The Conference passed unanimously an urgency resolution demanding fair treatment and trial of the Social Revolutionaries in Russia.

(Reuter Pacific Service)

Peking, June 26.—Dr. C. T.
